Grand Jury Indicts Westery Druggist

Thomas J. Fannon Accused of Maintaining Liquor Nuisance—Outcome of Superior Court Hearing in Alleged Poisoned Whiskey Cases—William Hoxsey Dies Suddenly in California—Rumored Elopement—Funeral of Deputy Sheriff Coon.

William Hoxsey died suddenly, Monday afternoon in Hotel Del Coronado, Coronado Beach, near San Diego, Cal., where he has been with Mrs. Hoxsey since last November for the benefit of his health. Since his retirement from the town clerkship he has spent most of the time in travel. He was the son of Welcome Arnold Hoxsey, who took up his residence in Westery in 1839, where he died in December, 1875. William Hoxsey was brother of Mrs. Stephen Wilcox, the donor of the Memorial and Public Library building and Wilcox park, and the last survivor of the family.

William Hoxsey, who for twenty-two years was the efficient town clerk of Westery, was one of the foremost and wealthiest citizens of the town. He was a descendant in the second generation from Lodowick Hawke, who came to America soon after 1650, from Scotland, and was brother of a numerous posterity. The present day spelling of the name takes various forms, such as Hoxsey, Hoxie, Hoxie, yet all those bearing the name are descendants of Lodowick Hawke.

William Hoxsey was born March 1, 1840, in the homestead on High street, Westery, which he always made his home. During his boyhood he attended school in Westery and later was a student in the Kingston private school and at the Friends' school in Providence. His first regular employment was in the grocery store of Hall & Sherburne, Westery, and subsequently, for a period of five years, he was associated with the dry goods firm of Robinson & Hoxsey. Through most of his time has been devoted to the public service, he has been prominent in local industrial and financial matters. He was vice president of the old Phenix bank and at the time of death was a director of the Washington Trust company, and until November, 1907, president of the Pawcatuck Valley Street Railway company.

Mr. Hoxsey was appointed deputy town clerk July, 1882, and the year following was elected town clerk. He was re-elected continuously until June, 1907, when he declined further nomination. He was representative from Westery in the general assembly of 1891, and served in the senate in 1893 and 1894. Being a republican of pronounced opinion, he took keen interest in party success and was regarded as one of the most influential men in this section of Rhode Island. He was prominent in Masonic circles and was treasurer of the Westery chapter of the Knights Templar, for many years. He devoted no small portion of his leisure to the study of art, of which he was an ardent admirer and judicious patron.

Mr. Hoxsey was a zealous member of Christ Episcopal church, Westery, and a generous contributor, his pastor of being $1,000. He was warden of the church for many years and at the recent annual meeting was elected treasurer, succeeding the late Charles H. Babcock. He was also treasurer of the church.

Mr. Hoxsey married in New York, June 4, 1861, Miss Louise D. Heggie.

dec 15d Westery, R. I.

He is survived by Mrs. Hoxsey and a daughter, Mary Minton Hoxsey, wife of Percy C. Thomas, of Rome, N. Y. About a month ago, when in the dining room of the Hotel Del Coronado, Mr. Hoxsey suffered a slight paralytic stroke, from which he never fully recovered. Although suffering from the effects, his condition was not considered precocious, and his death came suddenly. The body will be forwarded to Westery and placed in the family plot at River Road.

Judge Edward M. Burke held regular session of the Westery probate court Tuesday afternoon. The greater part of the session was devoted to the general condition of the estate of Alfred A. Stillman, Attorney at Law, and Burdick appearing for the executor, the object being to determine action in regard to inventory and sale of some of the carriages that were in the possession of Mr. Stillman at the time of his death, as agent for carriage companies. The will of J. Alonzo Babcock was admitted to probate. All his property, real and personal, is bequeathed to his son, Edward H. Babcock, who is named in the will as executor. The will is dated Jan. 15, 1908, and witnessed by Thomas H. Peabody, Lucy E. Peabody and Ernest M. Sullivan.

Edward H. Babcock was confirmed as executor, with bonds of $3,500, without security. Eugene B. Pendleton, George N. Burdick and James Jolly were appointed appraisers. Joseph Moore rendered account of estate of Elizabeth C. Moore, as administrator, which was ordered recorded, as was also the inventory of the estate of Frederick M. Card.

The inventory of the estate of Eugene B. Stillman was received for record, and the executor was authorized to sell specified articles of personal property for private sale.

Albert P. Cottrell gave release to Charles P. Cottrell, as guardian, of his estate, the former having attained his majority. The release was recorded.

Albert G. Barber was appointed administrator of the estate of Nathan M. Barber, who died March 12, 1910, in Westery. His estate is valued at $3,500. Frank H. Cordeiro is the surety. The appraisers are Lafayette B. Kenyon, J. Walker Boudinot and John Currier.

The administrator of the estate of Susan P. York was authorized to pay to the executor of the estate of Alfred A. Stillman, the sum of $50 for the perpetual care of the cemetery lot.

The will of Charles Pendleton Chapman has been filed for record. All the estate is bequeathed to his wife, Eliza A. Chapman, during her natural life. Under the will, Mr. Chapman's remaining portion of the estate is bequeathed to the two sons, Charles D. Chapman and Leander T. Chapman, to be divided equally between them, if both survive Mr. Chapman. The will provides that if neither son survives and no leaves any children, the estate remaining shall go to the heirs at law. Eliza A. Chapman is named as sole executrix under the will. The will is dated June 17, 1890, and witnessed by Henry Whipple, Albert H. Spicer and Charles Perrin.

Leander P. Chapman died since the will was executed, and Charles D. Chapman is the only surviving son. The will of Hannah Collins McCort, formerly of Westery, who died in St. Mary's home, Westery, Conn., March 30, was lodged for probate. The will directs that her body be buried in old St. Michael's cemetery, Pawcatuck, and leaves $50 to care for the burial lot.

She bequeathed $150 to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Westery, and request that low masses be said for her soul and the soul of her sister, Julia Collins, and for the soul of her son, William J. Collins McCort, in case he be dead, and for his temporal and spiritual welfare if he be living.

She bequeathed eight shares of the Narragansett Electric Lighting company of Providence to her son, William J. Collins McCort, his heirs and assigns. The rest and residue of the estate is given to the St. Vincent de Paul Indian asylum in Providence. Charles Perrin is named as executor of the will, which is dated Oct. 29, 1907, and witnessed by C. Morgan and Arthur L. Perry. The personal estate is valued at $2,000.

There is a new chapter in the love affair of Marie Costagna of Westery and Tony Signarelle of Peacedale. Last February, under the impression that he had been killed, Signarelle shot himself while on the train soon after leaving Westery, returning from a visit to his lady love. The wound inflicted was not serious. Soon after that there were frequent meetings of the young lovers, each being 18 years of age.

Monday morning Signarelle left Westery for Boston on the 10:26 train and with him was Miss Costagna on an engagement trip and he believed in Westery that they are now married. The parents of the girl are very indignant over the affair and the police of Providence and Boston have been asked to take the girl into custody, as the parents propose to get possession of their daughter, as she is still in her minority.

Rev. William F. Williams of Christ Episcopal church conducted the funeral services of Deputy Sheriff Eugene W. Coon at his residence in Broad street Tuesday afternoon. There was a large attendance at the funeral. Burial was in River Road. The bearers were Chief Cornelius Bransfield, Sergeant Thomas E. Brown and Patrolmen Edward West and Frederick Mitchell. The escort consisted of police force and Elery Barber and Frank Robinson.

An informal ladies' night will be the social feature of Narragansett commandery, Knights Templar, this (Wednesday) evening, when all knights are privileged to invite a lady. There will be music, cards and light refreshments. The affair is arranged by a committee composed of Arthur N. Nash, Lewis Stanton, Harry L. Bolles and William H. Sanford.

A team of large horses attached to a low gear, and owned by Contractor Nardone ran away Tuesday afternoon, starting from the Evans place on the Post road and being stopped near the Archie residence in Edgch street. The low gear struck the gateway at Thompson's corner and knocked down the stone wall for a distance of six feet.

In the superior court for Washington county at Kingston Tuesday all the evidence at hand in connection with the alleged "poison whiskey" cases and testify at Thomas J. Fannon, a Westery druggist, was placed before the grand jury from the prosecution standpoint, by Assistant Attorney General Cross, strengthened by the oral testimony of witnesses. The grand jury returned an indictment against Thomas J. Fannon in which he is accused of maintaining a liquor nuisance. A copy was issued and Mr. Fannon will appear in court to make answer to the charge.

These witnesses were called to the jury room singly and gave testimony, which covered the circumstances in connection with the recent sudden death of John D. O'Connell, Frederick Congdon, Andrew Jordan, Brigham Nye, Clifford Perrin, John Connell, Robert N. Hall, John Beardon, William Holland, Chicksey Moore, and Bernard McCort. Drs. May, Payne and Savage, Judge Seabury, the judges, Revs. Joseph L. Peacock, Clayton A. Burdick, Ira B. Crandall, Isaac G. Barber and Milo Carter were not given opportunity to testify with reference to the Fannon store as a liquor nuisance.

In the liquor case against Willis Army, proprietor of the City pharmacy, the jury found no indictment. In charging the grand jury, Judge Lee said in connection therewith the following, which might be considered significant: "In addition to the cases which come before you from the regular channels of justice, there may be also crimes and offenses of which you individually may know. It is your duty to present such cases to your fellow jurors and, if sufficient evidence is found, to indict. The investigation of one case may also bring out evidence of another offense or crime."

Eight of the twenty grand jurors are residents of Westery.

The first election in Cranston as a city was held Tuesday, and Attorney Albert H. Crafts, formerly of Westery, who represented this town in the general assembly, did not vote from the personal property list. According to the law, a personal property voter who has not paid his tax, is dropped from the list, but if he has ever been a registry voter he is placed on the registry list. Mr. Crafts, among others, was dropped from the personal property list. When he came to the polling place Tuesday he was told of his status and he did not vote for a moment and then exclaimed: "Well, I told the girl to send that check; I'll vote for many a year."

Then Mr. Crafts went forward and exercised the privilege of a registered voter. He was followed by Palmer and other citizens of prominence were in the same category.

These officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Woman's Aid society of the Seventh-day Baptist church, Mrs. Charles H. Stanton, president; Mrs. Gordon Hoxsey, Mrs. Charles D. Maxson, Mrs. Carey A. Main, Mrs. John Austin, vice presidents; Mrs. Edith Burk, secretary; Mrs. Albert H. Langworthy, Mrs. John Tanner, Mrs. Isaac Burdick, Mrs. George H. Langley, Mrs. James Hemphill, Mrs. Wm. Livingstone, Mrs. Everett E. Whipple, directors; Mrs. Walter Price, Mrs. C. Clarence Maxson, auditors.

W. C. T. U. Will Take Steps to Enforce Law Which is Given Below.

At the meeting of the Bristol W. C. T. U., says The Press, it was decided recently to initiate a campaign against the sale of cigarettes to young boys. While the sale is not general among the large dealers some of the small dealers have been breaking the law, which should be enforced. The law is plain and is as follows: Revised Statutes, State of Conn., 1902 Chapter LXXXIX.

An Act Concerning the Sale and Use of Tobacco.

Section 1361. Every person who shall sell, give or deliver to any minor under sixteen years of age, tobacco in any form, shall be fined not more than fifty dollars for each offense.

Section 1362. Every person under sixteen years of age who shall smoke, or in any way use, in any public street, place or resort, tobacco in any form whatsoever, shall be fined not more than seven dollars for each offense.

HARTFORD WORKER SAFE.

Several Hundred Miles Away from Chinese Trouble.

Mrs. Logan H. Root, wife of Bishop Root of the Han Kow diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church in China, who is a daughter of the Rev. Prof. McCook of Trinity college, Hartford, and a graduate of the high school, is a subject of much unnecessary solicitude on the part of friends who have read of the troubles in China. Some of the dispatches have read the state line of Han Kow and it was apprehended that Mrs. Root might be in danger.

In point of fact the disaster is central in Changsha, which is about 300 miles to the southwest of Han Kow. Miss Frances McCook, who took a trip around the world with her father two years ago and visited her sister at Han Kow, explains that in a letter lately received from Mrs. Root it was stated that there was a famine in the central portion of China. No mention was made of trouble in Han Kow.

Dentists Honor Former Member.
A notable gathering attended the dinner given at the New Haven house Monday night in honor of Dr. Edward S. Gaylord, by the New Haven Dental association. It was given in respect to Dr. Gaylord, who has long been a faithful member of the organization, and in honor of his lengthy career as an active practitioner. During the evening Dr. Frederick W. Brown, who occupied the seat of toastmaster, presented Dr. Gaylord a handsome electric light standing seven feet high and made of Egyptian hammered brass.

GOLD DUST Makes Hard Water as Soft as Rainwater

Every good housewife knows the value of nice, soft rain-water for washing clothes and for all cleansing purposes. It isn't always convenient to secure rain-water, however. Neither is it necessary. Gold Dust will soften the hardest water, take out the mineral substances and make it so near like the water that falls from the clouds that you couldn't tell the difference.

Think what this means to you on wash-day. There's a deal of difference between the action of hard and soft water for all cleansing. Just a little Gold Dust added to the water renders it soft and brings out the greatest cleansing value.

Try it the next time you wash clothes or dishes. Gold Dust really cleanses so easily that it relieves housework of all its drudgery.

Notice the Two Hods in the Base of the Crawford Ranges

One is an Ash Hod into which the ashes fall through a chute—all of them—and are easily emptied. The other Hod is for Coal. This feature saves lots of trouble and is patented.

Then there is the wonderful Single Damper (patented); slide the knob to "kindle," "bake" or "check," the range does the rest.

The Oven has cup-joint heat flues that heat it all over alike.

The Patented Grates save coal and trouble.
